About Me

I am an analytical and detail-oriented professional pursuing Data Analyst and Business Analyst roles, with an Informatics background and Presales experience. I support business operations through market research, BOQ preparation, and ERP data management while building hands-on data analytics experience. I have completed end-to-end analytics projects involving data cleaning, exploratory analysis, forecasting, SQL, and dashboard development. My experience has strengthened my problem-solving, attention to detail, and stakeholder communication skills. I combine technical data skills with business exposure to translate data into actionable insights and support informed decisions.

Project Experiences

Demand Forecasting & Inventory Planning | RevoU

Aug 2026

Q-Commerce case study focused on demand forecasting and inventory planning.

- Analyzed historical demand patterns across time, hubs, and product categories to identify demand variability and inventory planning priorities.
- Developed and evaluated multiple demand forecasting approaches, selecting a 4-Week Moving Average based on model performance to forecast approximately 442.9K units of August 2022 demand.
- Translated forecasting results into actionable inventory recommendations by prioritizing high-demand hubs and categories while considering demand volatility and stockout/overstock risks.

Finance Portfolio & Risk Insights | RevoU

Aug 2026

Lending portfolio analysis focused on portfolio health and credit risk.

- Analyzed lending portfolio data using SQL and BigQuery to assess portfolio health and identify credit risk patterns across loan grades, interest rates, loan amounts, and issue-year cohorts.
- Identified the 2013 cohort as the weakest-performing cohort, with 96.49% TKB30 and approximately $641.15K outstanding balance overdue >30 days.
- Identified Grade D–G loans with 20–25% interest rates as a major risk concentration, accounting for 48.06% of 2013 outstanding balance overdue >30 days, and developed data-driven recommendations for portfolio risk management.

Working Experiences

Presales | Koperasi Konsumen Karyawan PT. Aplikasi Lintasarta
